

Lauren K. Tannenbaum

Technical Editor

Ms. Tannenbaum joined Sonoma Technology in 2019 as an on-call editor. Since 2020, she has worked consistently as a member of the Publications Group, where she edits technical documents, formats scientific reports, and supports the company's business development and social media efforts.

As part of the Publications Group, Ms. Tannenbaum reviews proposals, technical memoranda, and scientific reports to ensure that all documents are useful and easy to understand while meeting the highest grammatical and organizational standards. She also supports Sonoma Technology's social media efforts by writing posts for LinkedIn, Facebook, and Twitter, and summarizing projects and journal articles for the company's website.

Before joining Sonoma Technology, Ms. Tannenbaum edited technical training manuals, educational textbooks, marketing materials, and literary publications. She also worked as a freelance content writer for various clients, companies, and blogs, including HUM Nutrition (a wellness company) and SynEd (an educational consulting firm). She also managed social media for Colorado Wine Company in Eagle Rock, California. She is experienced in the Microsoft Office Suite, Adobe Acrobat, and EndNote.

Education

BA, English/Comparative Literature,
Occidental College

Ms. Tannenbaum graduated from Occidental College in California with a BA in English/Comparative Literature Studies. While she was there, she was actively involved in the theater and music department. Her original play, "House Fire" was produced in Occidental's competitive and prestigious New Play Festival.